Dorms Have 320 Residents

Figures made available by Miss Edith Ames, manager of residence halls, show that 320 persons are living in the university dormitories. The Corbin hall dining room is boarding 224 people. It is also open to short-course outside people.

South hall has the largest population with 105, followed by New hall with 89. There are 71 persons staying in Corbin and 55 in North hall.

Many occupants are using single rooms. All halls have vacant rooms to be used by persons in short courses to be offered during the session.

Short courses are as follows: June 14 to 24, Workshop in Testing and Guidance; June 20 to July 29, Piano Teaching workshop; July 5 to 16, School Administrators' seminar; July 24 to 29, Coaching school; July 24 to 30, Montana Music week; July 24 to 30, Montana Music week; July 24 to August 6, High School Music camp; July 24 to Aug. 6, Music Education two-week course; and July 25 to Aug. 19, Business Education workshop.

FREEMAN LECTURES

Prof. Edmund L. Freeman of the English department will begin a series of six lectures on the major English men of letters Friday morning, June 17 at 10 o'clock in Library 118. The lectures are open to all students.

The title of his opening lecture will be "Sir Thomas More and Utopia."

The lecture will run an hour with a short discussion period at the end.

Dean Convinced Summer Students Mean Business

"My general observation is that summer session students mean business; and it is clear that this summer is no exception," Dean James W. Maucker said in welcoming new students to the Montana State University campus.

Maucker, dean of the School of Education, is director of university summer sessions.

"We are looking forward to a busy summer, highlighted by a series of stimulating conferences and institutes. With enrollment about as expected, in the neighborhood of 1,200 students, the session appears to be getting off to a good start."

The many convocations and musical activities to be held, as well as planned outside recreational projects, offer a real opportunity for broadening the interests of those enrolled in the session, Maucker said.

Guess Is Accurate

Preliminary estimates of summer session enrollment were set at 1,150 to 1,200. Unofficial registration figures as of Wednesday night stood at 1,196.

Since late-comers will continue to show up for the next week, total registration may exceed the 1,200 mark, which will still be under the summer session total for last year.

Two MSU Grads Named Directors Of Atlantic Union

Two MSU graduates, Clarence Streit '19 and Harold C. Urey '17, have been named as directors of the Committee for Atlantic Union.

Clarence Streit is noted for his widely read book, "Union Now." Harold Urey contributed much to the atomic bomb by his research on "heavy water."

The Committee for Atlantic Union is headed by former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, as president. Vice presidents are Robert J. Patterson, former secretary of war, and William L. Clayton, former under secretary of state.

The purposes of the committee are, first, "to support the United Nations and the Atlantic Charter" and second, "to promote a federal union of the world's democracies."

J. W. Maucker, director of summer session, is the busiest man on campus these days, because he is also dean of the School of Education—a job which requires something more than 24 hours a day even when the summer session is not going.

P-TA Conference Opens Monday for Two-day Session in Student Union

"Family Living" is the theme of the fourth annual Parent-Teacher association conference to open in the Gold room of the Student Union on the campus Monday morning, June 20. An attendance of more than 150 is anticipated for the two days of the meeting, sponsored jointly by the Montana Congress of P-TA and Montana State University.

The conference opens at 8:30 Monday morning for registration. The first general session opens at 9:30 with Mrs. Dallas J. Reed of Missoula, state workshop chairman presiding. Rev. Carl Sullenger, university School of Reberger, will give the invocation, followed by a greeting from Pres. James A. McCain and a response by Mrs. Morris Blake, Kalispell, president of district No. 1 of P-TA.

Main Speaker

Prof. Dale B. Harris of the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of Minnesota will give the principle address on "Living Today." Following the talk will be a showing of the famous Oregon film, "Human Growth."

Benjamin R. Frost of the School of Education will lead group singing and will talk on workshop procedure to be followed during the conference.

Sessions will start again at 1:30 in the afternoon with Dr. Gordon Browder, head of the sociology and social administration department, as chairman. Group discussions will be conducted on home relationships, neighborhood influences, getting along in school, sex understanding, and moral and spiritual values.

A tea at 4:15 will close the Monday activities. This is to be sponsored by the Franklin P-TA, Mrs. Herbert Barton Jr., president.

Tuesday Program

Linus J. Carleton of the School of Education, and chairman of the college cooperation with the local P-TA will be chairman of the Tuesday morning general session, to open at 9 a.m. Group discussions will again be featured, on the same topics as were used Monday. "The School Age Child" is the concern of the discussions.

At 1:30 the afternoon program will have Harold Fleming as chairman, and will be concerned with "The Adolescent." J. W. Maucker, dean of the School of Education and director of the summer session, will give an evaluation of the work shop.

A dinner at the Missoula Coun-

(please see page three)

Mrs. Charles A. Snyder, vice-president of region five of the national Parent-Teacher association, will appear at the P-TA conference on the campus next Monday and Tuesday.

Tryouts Start For Summer Play

Tryouts for Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie", major dramatic production of the summer, will start tonight in Simpkins Little Theater at 7 p.m., according to Abe Wollock, director of summer drama.

Clemen Peck, technical director at Temple university and a member of the editorial board for Players magazine, will handle the technical phase of the production and assist Wollock with the directing.

Peck, a native Montanan, taught at Great Falls high school twelve years until he went to Temple in 1945. He was on campus two years ago, and handled the technical work for G. B. Shaw's "Simpleton of the Unexpected Isles."

Wednesday and Thursday, July 13-14, have been designated as the dates of production for the summer play.

Hey There—Wanna Fight?

Real quick like, we'll say: Welcome to Summer Session at Montana State University. May you enjoy your stay in The Garden City. Finis.

Now then: Nothing attracts a crowd like a good fight and we would like to start one—or several. And if someone else wants to start the fight we would be glad to sponsor it. We don't particularly mean hair-pulling or fists on the oval—although that might enliven the situation a bit. Two years ago this summer a Ph.D. from Chicago offered, from the stage of the Union, to wrestle anyone in the house for a quarter—and there were no takers.

The Montana Taxpayers association says that Montana is the second highest state in the nation in per-student cost of education. We think that is disgraceful. The antecedent of that "that" in the preceding sentence can be whatever you wish it to be. Someone ought to take issue with "that" in some way. It is either true or it isn't, or it is part true, or distorted-true. If anyone cares to stick out his neck and write a letter to the editor of the Sun we might very well print that letter if it isn't libelous. That is the kind of a fight we mean.

We think everyone should go to every convocation; roll should be taken and absentees should be penalized. We'll fight on either side of that question, or we'll simply hold coats if someone else wants to fight.

We think all Communists and Fellow Travelers should be barred from teaching. Why should they be paid to poison our youth against the American Way? (We feel terrible writing such things. After all, Tuesday was Flag Day.)

Teachers sign contracts to teach the following year, and then get a new job during the summer and want to jump that contract. What's fair about that? We expect school boards to stand by their contracts. Why shouldn't teachers be forced to stand by theirs?

We think footnotes and other scholarly flim-flam in theses and term papers are an abomination before the Lord.

We think "Who did you give the book to" is good grammar and we'll fight you if you say it isn't. We are for: Mother Love, the Seventh-Inning-Stretch, and the American Flag. We are against: The Common House Fly, the Open Manhole Cover, and the Man-Eating Shark.

Don't Specialize Too Much

You have all heard about the man who got to be such an expert on a single phase in his field that he knew more and more about less and less until finally he knew everything about nothing.

Everything under the sun is grist to the mill of the educated man. If you are here, for instance, to take advanced work in education, try to keep your interests as wide as the education faculty would like to have you.

One way to do that would be to take part in as many as possible of the varied activities offered on the campus this summer. Go to the conferences. Go to the convocations. Go to the lectures. Go to these things even though they may not be directly in your field.

After all, the whole world is your field. Don't give all your time to your subjects. Don't even give all your spare time to the fish. Fishing is a wonderful form of escape, but then so is hanging yourself by the neck. Some of the stupidest people we know are ardent fishermen.

Letters to the Editor should be addressed to the Summer Session Sun. They must be signed by the real name of the writer, which name may be withheld from publication at the request of the writer and with the consent of the editor. They must not incite to riot, nor contain libelous, hysterical, or defamatory matter. They should be brief, if possible, and the Editor retains the right to shorten letters if he can do so without destroying the ideas or intent of the writer.

Friendly Suit Tests Validity Of Bond Issue

The friendly suit to test validity of proceedings leading to issuance of $5,000,000 in bonds for new construction at the units of the Montana university system will be argued before the Montana supreme court Wednesday, attorneys in the action said Tuesday.

If the supreme court determines that the bond issue is valid, it is expected that sale of the bonds will be conducted immediately by the state board of examiners so that construction at the various units can begin as soon as possible, they said.

The same test case procedure is being followed, with E. W. Thomas, Missoula insurance man, acting as plaintiff, as was followed in past years in connection with bonds for construction of dormitories, the student union building, and the journalism building at the State University.

Where bonds are sold in large denominations, bond houses before bidding require the opinion of recognized bond counsel, who in turn require that any question of constitutionality be submitted to and determined by a court, the attorneys explained.

In the test case, Thomas asks the court to enjoin the state board of examiners from advertising the sale of the bonds, authorized by referendum last fall, on a matter of constitutionality.

Campus Improvement Program Underway

With new sidewalk construction more than half finished, MSU's summer campus improvement program is now well under way, according to T. G. Swearingen, maintenance engineer.

The improvement project is being financed by part of a $300,000 state legislature appropriation recently made available to the University for new construction and repairs.

Sidewalks are being widened and repaired throughout the campus, and the entrance to the oval is being widened.

Also scheduled for summer construction are two small buildings, an animal house, to be erected southeast of the chemistry-pharmacy building, and a greenhouse, which will be located south of the School of Forestry.

Work on the new business administration building is progressing satisfactorily, Swearingen said. Money from the legislature appropriation is being used to finish the interior of the structure's third story.

Additional funds from the appropriation are being used for new buildings and facilities at the biological station on Flathead lake.

Convo Schedule Announced, Offers Music, Stars, Lectures

An interesting summer session convocation schedule has been announced by Edmund L. Freeman, professor of English and chairman of the convocations committee.

The summer's convocations in the Student Union auditorium will be regularly started at 10 o'clock on Thursdays.

Mrs. DeLoss Smith will be the regular organist.

Musical Selections

The first of the series will start today featuring musical selections by Eugene Andrie, violinist, and Rudolph Wendt, pianist, of the music school staff.

Dean James W. Maucker of the School of Education will speak on the summer session education school, Dean John B. Crowder of the School of Music will speak on summer session musical activities, and Joseph Kinsey Howard will speak on the Montana Writers conference.

The program for the following weeks as outlined by Professor

Freeman includes for June 23, Harry G. Johnson, director of the Brown Foundation of Walla Walla, Wash., in a three-day astronomy presentation. Johnson will present three approaches to astronomy: telescopic observation of the moon, representative stars and a planet or two. The telescope used will be able to accommodate 70 people an hour. Next will be a series of three auditorium lectures in the planetarium style, and last, "The Avenue of Stars," a line-up of outdoor arrangements indicating some of the interesting summer stars in view and listing brief information about each.

Music and Dancing

On June 30 the enchanting music and dancing of Spain and Latin America will be presented by the famous Emilio and Terisita Osta. Emilio gives superb pulsating accompaniment to the interpretative artistry that is Terisita's dancing.

Following this on July 21 will be a talk by Richard Newberger,

Radio Guild Needs Summer Project

Students interested in radio speech, writing, or drama are invited by the university Radio guild to participate in its summer activities, according to Eileen Plumb, Missoula.

The guild, which carried on an extensive program of broadcasting during the regular school year, is now looking for a summer project, she said. New students interested in the guild's activities as well as old members on the campus may call Miss Plumb at 8555 after 5 p.m. A meeting of the group will be announced some time next week.

Portland, Ore., author of "Our Promised Land," and a frequent contributor to many of our national magazines. He will be on the campus in connection with the Montana Writer's conference.

Myles Horton, director of the Highlander Folk orchestra, Monteagle, Tenn., will be featured on Aug. 4, and Induk Pakh of Korea will speak Aug. 11.

Men's Chorus to Give Summer Concert at Union Monday Night

The Missoula Mendelssohn club, 40-voice men's chorus, with Arthur H. Biggs, guest artist organist from Spokane, will sing its fifth annual summer concert Monday night, June 20, in the Student Union auditorium on the campus.

The club, started in 1944, rehearses on the campus once a week from September through June, and feels itself directly in the tradition of the 50-year-old Spokane Mendelssohn club, the century-old Mendelssohn Society of New York, and thousands of other singing groups all over the country which thrive and grow on the solid base of the American love of a good chord of harmony, be it based on music by Beethoven or by the nameless ones who worked out the barbership type of tunes.

Varied Membership

Membership of the club cuts across social, class, and financial lines, all the way from bank presidents to university faculty. The members need nothing except a certain meager ability to accept instruction in rehearsal, and a yen to sing in a group—a yen strong enough to keep that weekly rehearsal date week after week after month and year.

The club, directed by Stephen Niblack, music director at Missoula County high school and charter member of the club, with Francis Reamer as accompanist, will sing 11 numbers, in three groups. Group I: Blind Plowman, by Robert C. Clark; Lonely Woods, by Grace and Lully; Worship of God in Nature, by Beethoven; and Mad Dogs and Englishmen, by Noel Coward.

Second Group

Group II: Where'er You Walk, by Handel; a Fred Waring arrangement of Sir Arthur Sullivan's The Lost Chord; and a Jugo-Slavian folk song, I Won't Kiss Katy, arranged by Smith-Aschenbrenner.

Group III: It's a Grand Night for Singing, by Rodgers and Hammerstein; My Heart Stood Still, by Richard Rodgers, from "A Con-

Summer Orchestra Needs Musicians

Musicians are needed for the summer orchestra, according to Eugene Andrie, assistant professor of music. Those who play stringed instruments are especially needed.

These positions are open to every one whether they are registered for music or not, Andrie pointed out. They can play with the orchestra without signing up for credit.

The orchestra is scheduled to rehearse Tuesdays and Thursday at 7 p.m. and Wednesdays at 7 p.m. Anyone interested is requested to report to Andrie at one of these practice sessions. Experience is not imperative.

necticut Yankee;" A Little Close Harmony, arranged by Geoffrey O'Hara; and another Jugo-Slavian folk song, The Peasant and His Oxen.

Organ Program

The guest artist, Arthur H. Biggs, is a noted organist, now choir director and organist at the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist in Spokane. For four years he was director of the Spokane Mendelssohn club. He is a charter member and former dean of the Spokane chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

His part of the program, to be presented in two sections between appearances of the Mendelssohn club, will consist in the first group of Aria by Handel, Fugue in G (a la gigue) by Bach, and Piece Heroique by Franck. The second group will contain Rhapsodie No. 3, by Saint-Saens; Benediction Nuptiale, by Dubois; Romance sans paroles, by Bonnet; and Toccata on "O Filii," by Farnham.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained in advance by calling R. P. Struckman, School of Journalism, who maintains that he will call for an deliver anywhere on the campus or environs.

Class Offered To Librarians

A special curriculum materials library, operated in conjunction with the School of Education, will be tentatively open in L114 from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, according to Miss Kathleen Campbell, librarian.

The Montana State Library Extension commission is offering its cooperation in the form of new

Miss Campbell requests cooperation at the library loan desk because all members of the staff are new. Short delays may result during the first few days.

Nursery School Has Room for Tots

Room is still open for five or six small children at the university nursery school in Simpkins hall on the campus, according to Mrs. Jessie Perkins, school director.

Operated for children between the ages of three and six, the school offers a program of full-time care for the six weeks summer term, she said. It began operation Monday.

Parents interested in sending their children to the school may contact Mrs. Perkins by calling the University at 3121.

Dr. Dale B. Harris, professor at the University of Minnesota Institute of Child Welfare, will be the principle speaker at the Monday morning session of the state P-TA conference to be held in the Student Union gold room. He will also take part in a guidance conference while he is here.

Education Majors To See Movies

The School of Education will run a film preview service program for education students during the summer session. Education pictures will be shown five times a week. Schedules for the week will appear in each issue of the Summer Session Sun.

Following is the program for the week of June 16 to 22:

June 16—Browsing Day (Titles selected by students will be shown.)

June 17—Elementary School Subjects (Teen Numbers, What Is a Map?, The Horse, Hare and Tortoise, Johnny Learns His Manners).

June 20—School Problems (Schoolhouse in the Red, Modern Education in Beaverton, Mich.)

June 21—Youth Problems (Are You Popular?, Table Manners, Shy Guy, You and Your Friends, You and Your Family, Junior Prom).

June 22—Guidance (Techniques of Counseling, Aptitudes and Occupations, Pharmacist).

try club is scheduled for 6:30 Tuesday as the final event of the conference. Mrs. Arthur Armstrong, president of the Roosevelt P-TA, is chairman of the dinner.

Staff and Consultants

Visiting professors who will take part in the conference are Dale B. Harris and Stanley P. Wronski, University of Minnesota; Charles Howell, Northern Illinois State Teachers college, and Earl Fellbaum, superintendent of Helena schools.

Campus staff members taking part are Dr. Gladys Holmes, director of the state mental hygiene program; Dean Maucker; Herbert Wunderlich, dean of students; Harold Fleming, Linus Carleton, Ben Frost, all of the School of Education; Gordon Browder and Harold Tascher, department of sociology; E. A. Atkinson, Charles Hamilton, and Phil Buck, department of psychology, and Rev. Sullenberger.

Chairmen for the group discussions are Mrs. W. E. Wheeler, Kalispell; Mr. Fellbaum, and Mrs. Ray Rocene, Missoula. Mrs. E. W. Wibur, Stevensville; Dan Kind, Missoula, and Mrs. Paul Wetzsteon, Darby. S. J. Knudson and H. K. Larsen, school principals of Missoula, and Mrs. Best Robinson, Darby. Mrs. William Wehr, Kalispell; Mrs. H. A. Kuhl, and Mrs. Eleanor Bridenstine, Missoula. Mrs. Thomas Wickes and Mrs. Arthur Buls, Missoula, and Mrs. Thomas Micka, Corvallis.

Consultants for all group discussions and sessions, besides the staff already listed, include Mrs. Charles Snyder, regional vice-president of the national P-TA; James Doyle, juvenile officer of the city of Missoula, and Henry Meyers, director of the city playgrounds.

All sessions will be open to the public, according to Mrs. Reed, conference chairman, and she urges all parents and others interested to attend and take part.

Fishing Trips Offered To Swan Lake Lodge

A special arrangement with Lee Brisse, owner of the Big Sky lodge, will enable summer students to spend fishing week ends at the lodge for a minimum rate. The lodge is located on the southeast shore of Swan lake, 120 miles north of Missoula. Trout and bass fishing may be found in nearby lakes and streams.

Parties should include 10 or more persons and arrangements may be made in the recreation office by the Wednesday of the week preceding the trip. A $15 charge will cover the week end from Friday evening dinner through Sunday supper. Meals, lodgings, and use of boats are included, with horse rental extra.

Extra-Curricular Activities Scheduled for Each Week

The schedule of campus events for the week of June 16 to 23 as announced by Miss Cyril Van Duser, manager of the Student Union, appears below. Weekly schedules will appear in each issue of the Summer Session Sun.

Infirmery Closed; Dispensary Open

The university infirmery will not be open this summer, according to Dr. C. R. Lyons, health service director. However, summer session students will be entitled to use the health service office dispensary during its regular hours, he said.

The office is open on week days from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., and on Saturdays between 8:30 and noon. Hours for the prescription dispensary in the chemistry-pharmacy building are from 2 to 4 p.m. on week days.

Students may have their health service prescriptions filled by the prescription dispensary at wholesale prices, thus saving a considerable amount over prices charged by downtown drug stores, Lyons said.

During off-hours at the health service office students may report emergencies to Mrs. Nonie L. Lucas, head nurse, at phone number 2594, to Dr. Lyons at number 063R-11, to Dr. Willard Nicoll at 90402, or to Mrs. Mildred Waites at 7248.

Summer Recreation Features Hikes, Dancing, Bridge, Sports

A moonlight hike to the M scheduled for Saturday will be the first major event of the summer recreation program, Cyril Van Duser, manager of the Student Union, said yesterday. She asks interested summer sessioners to meet on the oval at 7 p.m.

Dr. J. W. Severy will lead the group on the Mt. Sentinel hike which will be made on the switch-back trail. Hot coffee will be available to the hikers during the evening, Miss Van Duser said.

A trip to the Bonner sawmill is set for the following Friday, June 24. The guided tour will leave at a time to be announced later. Only a limited number may sign up for the trip so that all members of the group may easily see the processing operations.

Miss Van Duser asks those interested to register in the recreation office on the second floor of the Student Union. A transportation fee of 50 cents will be required.

Other recreation features include square dancing which will start Friday night in the Gold

Register Now For Park Trip

The registration deadline for the Glacier park trip is Saturday noon, according to Cyril Van Duser, Student Union manager. Those planning to make the trip must have registered and paid the $35 fee for the three-day park tour by that time.

The group will meet at the Union at 8 a.m. July 2 and travel by bus to Flathead lake lodges where the first night will be spent. Dinner will be served at the lodges where fishing, swimming, and boating are available.

On July 3 the party will tour the park, stopping for lunch at Many Glaciers hotel with dinner and breakfast the following morning at Glacier Park Station hotel.

The Fourth of July will feature the conclusion of the park tour with the group returning to Flathead lake lodges for swimming and supper.

CUTHBERT ANNOUNCES CAFETERIA HOURS

During the summer session, Student Union cafeteria hours will be from 7:15 a.m. to 7 p.m. five days a week and from 7:15 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays, according to Jack Cuthbert, cafeteria manager. The cafeteria will be closed all day Sunday.

Specific meal hours for lunch are from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and dinner hours are from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Because of the reduced enrollment of the summer session, there should be no crowding in the cafeteria during meal hours, Cuthbert said.

Piano Recital To Be Given This Evening

A piano recital by Theodore F. Normann, visiting professor at the School of Music during the summer session, is scheduled in the Student Union auditorium at 8:30, this evening.

Normann is in the music department of the University of Washington and has studied at Macalester College, St. Paul; Columbia university; and the Juilliard school of music in New York City. He has a Ph.D. from Columbia and has done graduate work there and at Washington.

His experience includes instructing at Columbia; head of the department of music education, Miami university; associate professor of music at Missouri and Washington; and visiting professor of music at the University of Idaho.

Normann is the author of "Instrumental Music in the Public Schools" and is the editor of the Northwest Music Review, a magazine owned and supported by eight state music associations in the Pacific Northwest since 1943. In addition, he is a member of the advisory board of Instrumentalist magazine, a national periodical devoted to instrumental music in public schools.

Normann has also been active in the Washington Music Educators association as a past president and present member of the executive board and in the Washington State Music Teachers association as a three-year president and present executive secretary.

The recital will open with six sonatas by Scarlatti and continue with eight Debussy preludes. Following that Normann will play "Tales of the Old Grandmother" by Prokofieff and will conclude with the "Sonata in F Minor" by Prokofieff.

Summer Directors Will Give Annual Faculty Reception

Dean and Mrs. James W. Maucker and Prof. and Mrs. Walter R. Ames will preside at a reception next Wednesday for members of the summer session staff. The affair will take place in the Student Union lounge from 8 to 10 p.m.

This reception, an annual tradition of the director and assistant director of summer school, serves to help new and visiting faculty members get acquainted with the University.

COMMENCEMENT PLANNED

Following precedent set at the end of summer session last year, a formal commencement, complete with caps and gowns for seniors, plus hoods for Masters candidates, is being planned for the end of this summer session.
